The group exhibition of Contemporary Photography that inaugurates the Art Gallery AFK on the 4th of October, will provide a glimpse into the work of established and emerging artists, from different perspective and artistic proposals of Contemporary Photography.

The photography which is build on the exposure time or space-time representation and identity, where the “index” in the meaning of Peirce - and using the expression Joan Fontcuberta - “fade” and memory “release”, that we seek to raise the topics for reflection and an invitation to a formal and conceptual look about exhibition.

In the vast field of Contemporary Photography and in the different contexts in which it operates, the contemporary image is also, in a post lab time, in a second time - whose concept comes to us especially from the artistic vanguards of the early XX century - a fruitful representation of ideas and cross concepts, where the photographic representation no longer question it's “indexical” nature, but our own space of identity that the representation raises.
